Disclaimer: This is an unofficial copy of the 2025 CEQA Statute and Guidelines. While AEP has made every effort to see that this book is accurate, and that no changes have been made to the content of these state documents as a result of reformatting and reprinting, readers should reference official state versions to verify accuracy. Readers should also be aware that some changes in statutes, guidelines, or case law may have gone into effect since the date of publication. This book does not attempt to offer legal advice and readers should consult their own attorney. For all 2025 pre-orders and member complimentary copies, books will ship at the end of January and should be delivered by early February.
